D2:JP 3-112190 A (MATSUSHITA DENKO KABUSHIKI KAISHA) 1991.05.13
D3:EP 854207 A1 (NIPPON PAINT CO., LTD.) 1998.07.22
D4:EP 974624 A2 (NIPPON PAINT CO., LTD.) 2000.01.26
D5:JP 49-102726 A (MATSUSHITA) 1974.09.27
D6:JP 9-157621 A (JAPAN ENERGY KABUSHIKI KAISHA) 1997.06.17
D7:EP 458296 A2 (NIPPON PAINT CO., LTD.) 1991.11.27

The subject matters of claims 1-13 do not appear to involve inventive step in view of D1-D7.

D1 and D2 disclose respectively a method to producing a laminate which comprises the step (1) of forming, on each of two conductive materials, and the step (2) of joining the adhesive resin layer on each conductive material as obtained the the step (1) to each side of functional material.

D1 or D2 do not disclose an adhesive resin layer by an electrodeposition step with a cationic electrodepositable adhesive composition comprising a cationic resin composition, however such an adhesive resin layer is well-known to the public from D3-D7. The technical feature in D1-D2 and that in D3-D7 are concerned with mutually related technical fields. Therefore, the skilled person in the art would easily conceive the idea of employing the feature in D1-D2 to substitute the feature disclosed in D3-D7.

Since the cationic electrodepositable adhesive composition described in the specification is known from D3-D7 and claims 2 and 4 describe these functions, claims 2 and 4 do not appear to involve inventive step.

A cationic electrodepositable adhesive composition is an unsaturated bond-containing one and a cationic resin composition has an epoxy resin as a skelton appear to be known from D3-D7. and therefore claims 3 and 8 do not appear to involve inventive step.

Supplemental Box

In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.
Continuation of:

A sulfonium group- and propargyl group- as a cationic resin composition are disclosed in D3 and D4, and therefore claim 5 does not appear to involve inventive step.

D4 discloses a sulfonium group content, a propargyl group content and a total content and therefore claims 6 and 7 do not appear to involve inventive step.

D4 also discloses the same epoxy resin as in the claim 9 and therefore claim 9 does not appear to involve inventive step.

D4 discloses a drying step, a step of adhesion with heating and a step of curing by heating and therefore claims 10 and 11 do not appear to involve inventive step.

Claim 12 involves both an organic and inorganic material as a functional material and D1 and D2 disclose these materials and claim 12 does not appear to involve inventive step.

Claim 13 relates to the laminate obtained by the method of claim 1 and therefore claim 13 does not appear to involve inventive step.
